

Global Highly Sensitive Men's Summit Experience

Dear HSPs,

Here is a quick update about a FREE event happening this Saturday and Sunday, March 20 and 21. It is a Global Highly Sensitive Men's Summit Experience.

Here is a very special and affirming promotional video:

There are 14 guest speakers - all highly sensitive men, with the exception of four HSP women, of which I am one. I share about my experience protecting my then 11 year old highly sensitive son from a rather determined 6th grade football coach.

To find out more information and to register please go here: <https://www.internationalhspcenter.com/summit-register/>

I am looking forward to learning from the diverse voices and perspectives of highly sensitive men and I hope you are too.

with care and anticipation.
