Maybe you're thinking about taking a Reiki Master Teacher course for the first time.

Perhaps you're thinking about redoing your training with a different teacher, to gain a different perspective.

Either way, you might like to investigate the Reiki Evolution Master Teacher home study course, which has been followed by students all over the world, everywhere from West Africa to the United States, Europe, Australasia and Asia.

Training through home study is no easy option and you'll find that you end up with far, far more hands-on practical experience of using Reiki than is possible on any sort of live Reiki courses.

It's strange to think that home study gives you more practical experience, but it's true, because you can take your time, work at your own speed and really get to grips with the energies, techniques and meditations before moving on.

And all supported by your teacher (that would be me, Taggart) every step of the way.

Here's what other students thought about their home study courses

"I would like to say how much I enjoyed the course and for all your helpful feedback. I am really glad that I decided to do the course on line as I think it would have been far too much for me to take in during a weekend. I could take my time and spend as much time as needed on the various stages and really get to grips with each new input.

I found all the course material very helpful and used the manual and CD's all the time to keep familiarising myself with what I needed to learn and practice. One slight criticism is that I did find the manual repetitive in places but that might be intentional to drum things in! I also found the DVD very helpful and instructive for the Attunements and Reiju empowerments.

I found the various meditations and practices generated quite a lot of emotional response and I feel that I have been on an internal journey over the last four months which has left me in a quiet and more centred place. I am looking forward to continuing this journey and exploring the unlimited potential which Reiki offers. In some unfathomable way I also think it has made me want to work to become a "better" person – kinder, more patient and compassionate – a tall order for me!

Thank you so much."

Carole Lee, Scotland

"I thought the course content was brilliant...It covered more than what I expected it would. I really enjoyed all the more so original teachings that are so much more simple and mimic what the founder would have intended than western ideas. The home study course ran at a really great flowing pace – just right for each stage. I found the audio/DVD/manual/practicals all really easy to follow and helped it all sink in. I do not believe there is a Reiki master out there who could teach to this quality and quantity...I really feel it is so in depth and this is shown through your dedication and genuineness.

I feel the course more than met my expectations...I was nervous about doing my masters but I soon realised it was not as scary or hard as what I had thought!

Again the course materials were excellent quality and had plenty of information in, the pictures helped a lot. I feel lots of learning styles so as to keep it interesting and practical and to really help you relax and flow.

I cannot think of how the course could be improved in any way – it is excellent value and quality all round. I can only say thank you for this great experience and the lovely poster you sent.”

Gemma Johnson, England

“I absolutely loved the Shoden, Okuden, and Shinpinden courses and gained much more from it than from my previous Reiki training. It is very well laid out and I can tell that a LOT of work went into its development. Kudos to you for that. Even the course materials were very professional and easy to understand.

The home study approach allowed me to really take the time to fully grasp each concept and work with the energy to the point where I felt confident that I can apply everything in each lesson. Very impressive. I wouldn't change a thing.”

Gary Danko, USA
