It's Monday, so that means "Reiki Article Day" Mondays and Wednesdays: take 5 minutes to read a Reiki article

Reiki articles for you to read on Mondays and Wednesdays. Each one will take about 5 minutes or so to read, and hopefully you will find something interesting, informative, helpful or thought-provoking, maybe even challenging.

So without further ado, here's....

Today's Article "Explore Reiki Self-Treatment Methods (Part 1)"

Hiya,

How were you taught to Self-Treat?

Most people who are taught Reiki will have been taught some form of self-treatment, a way of focusing the energy on yourself, for your own benefit, and the most common form of self-treatment is what I would refer to as a “Standard Western hands-on” self-treatment method.

This is where you rest your hands in a series of positions covering the head and torso and maybe beyond, and let the energy flow out of your hands into your body.

It works well, though some of the positions can often be uncomfortable to get to, or hold for any amount of time, and that can often detract from the blissfulness of the experience.

So what I’m going to talk about in a series of articles are how to do Reiki on yourself in a number of different ways, ways to Reiki self-treat that are perhaps different from what you have been taught.

And I’d like to start with what you might call “The simplest self-treatment method ever”!

So, that's all from me for today.

Take care,

Taggart ;)

Taggart can help you to reclaim your authentic self, letting go of any anxiety, low self esteem, excess weight, to emerge again as the person you used to be.

“These sessions have been truly life changing and I find I now have so much more energy to devote to work and creative projects. I can more easily embody the essence of my true self now and after years of struggling with anxiety, I cannot get over just how remarkable this actually is.”
